QUESTION 1

SET OF FACTS

Question 1 is based on the facts of the court case, S v Khumalo (SS81/2016) [2017] ZAGPJHC 253 (8 September 2017).

The accused was convicted after a lengthy trial on multiple charges for crimes ranging from murder; aggravated robbery, rape, attempted rape and kidnapping, a total of 24 counts, all arising from several incidents. The offences of which he was convicted are particularly serious given their planned and callous nature. The conduct by the accused was "predatory in nature". His modus operandi after a social interaction involved kidnapping, verbally and physically threatening the victims and using or threatening the use of weapons before he attempted to sexually abuse all his victims.

One of the victims lost her life by being stabbed in the chest with a butcher's knife. Victim, Ms PNB was raped by the accused with his fingers and later with a stick "to rid her of her HIV status" and suffered severe physical injuries and emotional trauma.

After conviction, the court had to impose an appropriate sentence.

Answer the following questions with reference to the given set of facts:

1.1 Define criminal law. (2)

1.2 The accused was convicted inter alia for the crime, robbery with aggravating circumstances.

1.2.1 Briefly define robbery with reference to two unlawful acts. (2)

1.2.2 Define with reference to case law how grievous bodily harm is established with reference to robbery with aggravating circumstances. (3)

'Aggravating circumstances' in relation to the offence of robbery are defined in s 1(1)(b) of the CPA to mean:

(i) the wielding of a firearm or any other dangerous weapon;

(ii) the infliction of grievous bodily harm'; or

(iii) a threat to inflict grievous bodily harm; by the offender or an accomplice on the occasion when the offence is committed, whether before or during or after the commission of the offence.’

1.3 Provide in tabular format the elements of rape with reference to the elements of a crime in general. (5)

1.4 Give and define the purpose of sentencing. (5)

1.5 Discuss fully which sentence may be imposed for rape with reference to the given set of facts. Please keep question 1.6 hereafter in mind. (7)

1.6. Indicate when a court may deviate from the prescribed minimum prison sentence with reference to the relevant court case that may serve as guidance for such deviation. (5)

QUESTION 2

SET OF FACTS

A and B used to be best friends but their friendship did not end amicably. Out of revenge A creates a Facebook profile using the identity of B. On the wall of the Facebook A makes derogatory remarks about people that both A and B know. B is shocked when one of her friends living in London, England contacts her regarding an alleged remark on “her” Facebook profile. She discovers that a Facebook profile has been created in her name and that some unflattering photographs of her have been posted. B is very upset and hurt by what she has read on this Facebook profile. She has also heard that elsewhere on the Internet photographs of her have been posted and that A referred to her in her blog as a “deceitful rat who similar to the outbreak of the great plague during the middle ages spread pestilence where ever she goes.”

QUESTION 3

SET OF FACTS

A group of 5 men and 2 women entered a bank (financial institution) situated in a shopping centre. They entered the financial institution by walking through an open door. They ordered everyone at gun point to lie down on the floor. The accused demanded that the money in the safe be handed over. They also indicated that they would not tolerate any opposition and indicated that if the money was not handed over, a bomb would be detonated within a second after they had left the bank. They strapped an alleged bomb onto one of the people in the bank. It was estimated that approximately R5 million was handed over. They put the money in shopping bags in a shopping trolley. They proceeded to detonate canisters with sleeping gas which caused everyone to become drowsy. They pushed the trolley out of the bank as if nothing was amiss. Unfortunately, one of the bank cashiers suffered from asthma and had a severe asthma attack. He died as nobody was able to assist him.

The police received a tip from an informant and they are arrested.

At the police station the accused were questioned on the whereabouts of the money taken from the bank. Three policemen used an instrument to administer electric shocks to elicit the information from them. The bank manager was present and observed the questioning. He also encouraged them to use more forceful electric shocks as the bank could not afford the loss of the money which indirectly also affect the bank customers. The accused could not endure the pressure exerted on them and disclosed where the money was. Approximately R4 million was recovered.

They are charged with housebreaking with the intent to rob the bank; robbery of the bank money and murder.

YOU ARE THE PRESIDING OFFICER.

Answer the following questions with reference to the set of facts:

The accused object to the charge of housebreaking with the intent to rob the bank.

- 3.1 Define housebreaking in your answer and indicate whether you will uphold or reject the objection. Motivate your answer. (3)

The accused object to the charge of robbery and argue it should be theft.

- 3.2 What will you as presiding officer decide in respect of whether the conduct constitutes robbery or theft in respect of the bank money? (1)

The accused object to the murder charge and argue that the asthma attack acted as a novus actus interveniens.

- 3.3 Would you as presiding officer agree with the defence or not? Indicate a clear yes or no and motivate your answer with reference to case law. (4)

- 3.4 Would you as the presiding officer convict the accused on the murder charge. Discuss. (8)

- 3.5 You as the presiding officer ask the prosecutor to address the court on the conduct of the police and bank manager during the questioning of the accused which resulted in the recovery of a large amount of the money taken. What do you think the prosecutor's response will be? (3)
